STANLEY'S ADVENTURES IN AFRICA.

FROM AMERICAN PAPERS. LONDON, 2nd April.

Henry M. Stanley's letter describes ar encounter between Yambunga and Albert Nyanza. It goes much into details and is very interesting. The expedition, which consisted of 389 officers and men, started from Yambunga on June 28, 1887. On the first day the expedition marched twelve miles along the river honk to Yaknarde. During the next six days the expedition marched inland in an easterly direction through a densely populated district. The natives used every art known to molest and impede the advance of the arty, but although several conflicts took place, the party did not lose man, From July 4th until October 18th Stanley followed the left bank of the Aruwhimi. On August 1st the first death occurred, the cause being dissentary.

So far, for thirty-four days, the course had been singularly successful. The party now entered a wild country, in their nine days' march through which their sufferings were multiplied and several deaths occurred. On August 13th, on arriving at Aigaibbia the natives presented a bold front and the party lost five men from poisoned arrows. On August 31st the expedition met a party of Manyemas and their misfortunes began on this date. Within three days. this unfortunate meeting twenty-six men-

What Stanley describes as an awful month begins on September 18th. Leaving the station of the Arab chief Ugarrowas, when the expedition numbered 263 men, having lost sixty-six by desertion and death and having left ninety-six sick with Ugarrowas, the road led to the Arab settlment of Kalinga Longa. The men lived on wild fruits, fungiand nuts. Here stanley narrates who negotiations with the natives fulled; how a detachment of forty nersons, led by Lieutenant Stairs, and another of thirty, left Zaroba and assaulted an I carried the villages, driving the natives into a gardral route. The march was resumed on the 12th. route. "On the afternoon of the 30th," sayso Stanley, " we sighted the Nyanza with Kavalli. the objective point of the expedition. Six miles off I had told the men to prepare to see the Nyanza. They murmered and doubted. When they saw the Nyanza below them, many came to kiss my hands. We were now 5,200 feet above the sea level, and 2900 feet above the Albert Nyanza, after a short halt to enjoy the prospect, we commenced the rauged and stormy descent. Before the rear guard had descended one hundred feet the natives from the plate an poured after them, keeping the rear guard busy until within a few hundred feet of the Nyanza plain. We afterward approached the village of Kakongo, situated at the southwest corner of the Albert lake. Three hours were spent by us in attempting to would not exchange the blood of brotherhood, because they never heard of any good people coming from the west side of the lake. They would not accept any presents from us because they did not know who we were, but they would give us water to drink and show us the road up to Nyam Sassic. " From these singular people we learned that they had heard that there was a white man at Ugunro, but they had never heard of any white man being on the west side, nor had they ever seen any steamers on the lake. We were shown the path. We camped about half a mile from the lake and then began to consider our position. My couriers from Zanzibar had evidently not arrived or Emin Pasha with his two steamers would have paid the southwest side of the lake a visit to prepare the natives for our coming. My boat was at Kilinga Longa, 190 miles distant, and there were no cances obtainable. Before reaching Kilinga Longa Stanley lost fifty-five men through starvation and desertion. A slave owner at Kiling a Longa tried his utmost to ruin the expedition, short of open hostilities. He insisted on purchasing rifles, ammunition and clothing, so that the expedition left the station beggared. The men were absolutely naked, and were so weak that they were unable to carry the boat. Stanley was therefore obliged to eave the boat, together with seventy loads of goods, at Killinga Longa, under the care of Surgeon Parke and Captain Nelson, the latter of

After twelve days' journey the party on November 2nd reached Ibwiri. The Arab devastation, which had reached within a few miles of | Ibwiri, was so thorough that not a native but was left standing between Vaarraya and Ibwiri destroyed, turning the whole region into a horrible wilderness. Stunley continues: "Our sufferings terminated at Ibwiri. would the reach of the destroyers. We were on virgin soil in a region abounding with food. We carselves were mere skeletons, and a halt was therefore ordered for the purpose of recuperating. From 280 persons we now numbered 174. Our suffering had been so awful, the that our people refused to believe we would see the plains and cattle, the Nyanza and Emin Pasha. They had turned a deaf ear to our prayers and entreaties, and driven by hunger and suffering, they sold rifles and equipments for a few ears of Indian corn. Perceiving that mild punishment would be of no avail, I resorted to the death penalty, and two of the worst cases were hanged in the presence of all. We waited for thirteen days at Ibwiri. Supplies were morhaustible, and our people glutted themselves with such effort that we had 143 deek and robust men when we started for Albert Nyanza on November 24th. We were still 126 miles from Lake Given Food, but the distance seemed nothing. On December 5th we emerged upon the plains, leaving the deadly and gloomy forest behind us. After 100 days of continuous gloom we saw the light of broad day shining all around, making all things beautiful. The men literally leaped and yelled with joy, and raced over the ground with their burdens. On the 9th we entered the country of the powerful Chief Mozamboni. The natives sighted us, but we were prepared. Their war-cries were terrible from hill to hill, pealing across the intervening valleys. The people gathered in hundreds at every point, war-horns and drums announcing a struggle. After a slight skirmish, ending in our capturing a cow, the first beef we had tasted since we left the ocean, the night passed peacefully, both sides preparing for the morrow. "There was no plan feasible except to retreat to Ibwiri, build a fort, send a party back to Kilinga Longs for a boat, store up every load in the fort not conveyable, leave a garrison, in the fort to hold it, march back to Albert lake and send a boat in search of Emin Pasha. This was the plan which after a lengthy discussion with the officers I resolved again. After a few days' rest, Lieutenant Stairs with one hundred men, was sent to Kilinga Longa to bring the boat and goods. On the return of Stairs with the boat and goods he was sent to Ugarrowas. He was to bring up the convaled cents. Soon after his departure I was attacked by gastritis and an abscess on my arm. After month's careful nursing I recovered and set ou ngain for Albert Nyanza on April 2nd, accom-"On April 26; we arrived in Mozambini's country again. This time, after some hesitation Mozambini decided to make a blood brotherhood with me. His example was followed by all th other chief as far as the Nyanza. Every diffi culty seemed now to be removed. Food was sup plied gratis. When one day's march from Ny anza the natives came from Kavali and said white man named Malejja had given their chie a packet to give to me, his son. They remaine with us that might telling us wonderful storie about big ships, etc., which left no doubt in ou that there had been a native rumour that a white man had been seen at the south end of the lake.
